

ONE KILLED IN TRAFFIC MISHAP

MOKENA BRANDED AS SPEED TRAP

AN EDITORIAL

We were a little surprised and embarrassed beyond words when we read the "letter to the editor" in the Joliet Spectator last week. Citizens of our community are starting to think "what is becoming of our village." In fact we receive calls daily on the subject. Just in case you didn't read the Spectator of July 14, here is a copy of the letter published:

SPEED TRAP IN MOKENA

Joliet, July 12—Think twice before driving in Mokena. A Joliet man took some friends out to visit their daughter who lives in Mokena. On the return trip he was compelled to stop at a stop sign because another car was crossing the intersection. After this car passed he pulled out and shortly afterward he heard a siren signalling.

The driver pulled up and a police officer told him he was under arrest for failure to stop at the stop sign. The driver protested that he had stopped but neither his word nor that of his three passengers was accepted. The officer, who it was later learned, is Briggs, ordered the driver to proceed to the home of Police Magistrate Knight in Frankfort.

When asked why the case could not be heard by the police magistrate in Mokena, Briggs answered that he had been ordered by the Mokena village board to take the cases to Frankfort. It was later learned that Police Magistrate Balaz of Mokena was in Mokena all the time this was going on, but Briggs made no effort to contact him. When the driver arrived at Knight's home in Frankfort, followed by Briggs, the officer parked his car beside a fire plug, pulled a gun from his holster and proceeded into Knight's home followed by the driver.

After much reading of law and a minute examination of Briggs' star by Police Magistrate J. C. Knight, he ordered the Joliet man to pay a fine and costs to the tune of $12 without giving him a chance to plead guilty or not guilty. Police Magistrate Knight said Officer Briggs' word was law and threatened the driver with a $20 fine if he protested.

Before payment of the fine, Knight asked the driver if he had any money. When the driver answered in the negative, the fine was paid.

It has since been learned that Mokena residents are fined $2.00 for running through a stop sign. How much would a Joliet man have to pay if he actually broke the law by driving through one?

Letters To The Editor

July 16, 1949

Editor News-Bulletin:

In the letter to the editor in the Joliet Spectator in the issue of July 14, 1949, signed by F. C. McMahon, the statement he wrote is far from being the truth.

There was no gun pulled whatever in bringing him before the judge at Frankfort.

I was ordered by the village board to take all cases over to Frankfort before Judge Knight.

(Signed) C. H. Briggs

We understand on good authority that since the above arrest was made, the officer had orders to bring all persons arrested before Judge Mel Whitaker in New Lenox.

The above is what citizens of Mokena fail to understand. In the election of a village board last spring a police magistrate was elected by the people to act as judge in the violation of all village ordinances.

Since the police magistrate took office he has had very few cases come before him. In fact it is generally known that when the arrest of the Joliet citizen was made the police magistrate was within "shouting" distance of the spot where the alleged violation occurred.

We wonder if the village board has forgotten that they were elected by the people of the community and that as long as they are in office they are to act as the public's servants. When officials of a community forget this fact, it sooner or later leads to trouble.

Maybe it's "politics" that's the cause of public dissatisfaction with the administration of the public's affairs. Maybe it's some other reason. But whatever the reason, it is high time that the village board get their "house in order" so that they will get no more criticism from their "bosses"—the voters of Mokena.

Lions Clubs to Build City in This Area

Plans have been revealed of the purchase of between 300 and 400 acres of land near Matteson by the International Association of Lions clubs. This is the culmination of many years planning.

Lions International was founded in Chicago June 7, 1917 by Melvin Jones, secretary general. Mr. Jones, who is 69 has lived for the past 20 years in Flossmoor. He has been unflinching in his efforts to promote the Lions Clubs and its ideals. He has traveled throughout the country and many other countries making speeches in behalf of the ideals of Lionism.

Because of the rapid increase in members, especially during the past year or two, the headquarters in Chicago at 332 S. Michigan avenue has become inadequate. It has been noticed that the trend of Chicago is to go south and west of Chicago, therefore this ideal site near Flossmoor and Matteson was chosen. The excellent transportation service on the Illinois Central railway was a strong factor in making this decision.

Plans are to create a "Lions City", where there will be all space needed for offices, storage, a post office, motel, a hotel, with large and small banquet rooms, homes for employees, a library, hospitals, schools, an old people's home and a cemetery which is planned to name Garden of Memories.

Lions clubs located in this area are in Frankfort, New Lenox and other nearby cities. Their membership is composed of business, professional and industrial representatives.

Attacked By Rabid Dog; Treatment Given

Another rabid dog has been reported in Will County recently. As a result, four people are taking anti-rabies vaccine.

The cost to these four people cannot be completely estimated. However, in dollars and cents, the direct cost of having the shots would be about $100 for the four persons, plus the cost of the vaccine, which is furnished by the state health department. (If purchased, the vaccine would cost about $50.)

The inconvenience and loss of work time has not been considered, but it is of considerable importance. The shots have to be given daily for fourteen to twenty-one days.

For the small sum of $2.00 or less, dog owners throughout the county may have their dogs, and indirectly, their families, protected against rabies. The veterinarians are carrying rabies vaccine with them at all times for your convenience. Have your dog vaccinated today!

Weekly Review

Extension Service in Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Illinois College of Agriculture, Urbana

Grain Storage Space—A Good Investment!! Government approved grain storage space, either in commercial elevators or on the farm, may return good dividends to those farmers who have it. This is the conclusion one reaches after comparing current market bids with probable loan rates on corn and soybeans.

Corn, Current bids for December delivered corn will net the producer in most areas less than $1.00 a bushel. Although the loan rate will not be established until in October, present parity price for corn indicates that the support price will be substantially higher than present market bids, possibly by 35 cents a bushel or more. The June 15, 1949 parity price of corn was $1.57 and 90 percent of this is $1.41. The support price may be a few cents below present 90 percent of parity.

Of course, the market price for corn at harvest time may be higher than current bids for December delivered corn. Crop conditions during the balance of the growing season and availability of free corn will be important factors influencing corn prices during the next few months.

The first government estimate of the 1949 corn acreage and production will not be out until about the middle of July, but present prospects are excellent and the acreage is believed to be about the same as last year. Barring a severe drought, there is little likelihood that market prices of corn will be at the loan rate during harvest.

Soybeans There is a possibility that market prices of soybeans will more nearly equal the loan rate. The acreage has been substantially reduced from last year, and the demand for soybean meal may increase because of increases in hog and poultry production.

However, most recent bids on October-November delivered soybeans would net the producer less than $1.30 a bushel. The support level for the 1949 crop soybeans will be at 90 percent of "the comparable price for all soybeans" on September 1. On June 15 the 90 percent of comparable price was $2.12 a bushel, only 6 cents under the 1948 loan rate.

Parity Ratio Lowest in Seven Years. Prices of farm products dropped 2 percent from mid-May to mid-June. As a result of these lower prices received by farmers, the parity ratio (ratio of prices received to prices paid) dropped to 103 (1910-14-100), which according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics is the lowest in 7 years.

Prices of farm products are now 18 percent below the record high—reached in January 1948—but 2½ times higher than in 1940.

Farmers' Share of Food Dollar Lowest in Six Years. Another BAE report also on the pessimistic side, states that "for the first time since May 1943, farmers recently have been getting less than half of each dollar spent for farm food products."

From July 1948 to April 1949, the retail price of a "market-basket" of foodstuffs declined 8 percent. All of this drop came out of the farm value of foods. Marketing charges were unchanged.

"Bottom of Slump in Sight: Upturn to Start in 1950." That's the title of an article in the July 1 issue of the United States News and World Report. This view of future business trends, according to the U. S. News, "represents the consensus of the principal government economists, of U. S. News and World Report economists, and of economic advisers to some of the major industries and banks."

The article, while pointing out that there will be further reductions in incomes, business profits, and production of industrial goods, reaches the conclusion that "the worst of the slump should be over by the end of this year."

Supporting Arguments. The reasons given in support of this encouraging forecast of business conditions were:

1. The deflation has and will continue to be largely one of curtailment in business expansion and spending.

2. Businesses are delaying purchases in the expectation of lower prices; but prices will be stabilized once the level of wage rates are more firmly established. A more stable price base will receive business spending for inventories, plants, and equipment, which will start us on the road to gradual recovery.

3. There is still a large backlog of unsatisfied demands, and we have sufficient capital (money and credit) to finance the vast building and equipment needs.

Yes, farming today, the John Deere way, is easier than grandfather ever thought possible. And, it's faster and better, too.

The consistent leadership of John Deere plows typifies the trail-blazing role John Deere equipment has played in mechanizing farming's muscle work. It was John Deere's steel plow that opened the sticky prairie soil to profitable farming in 1837. The introduction of the John Deere "Gilpin Sulky" in 1875 lifted the pioneer farmer's weary legs out of the furrow... forever abolished the necessity of plodding behind a "walker." Today, plowing with John Deere plows is plowing at its best... and easiest, thanks to Truss-Frame design and hydraulic Powr-Trol.

The full line of modern John Deere equipment is designed to make all farming operations easier and more profitable... farms more productive. Come in and discuss your needs with us.

Micro-Organisms Sit for Portraits

NEW YORK, N. Y.—The dreaded tubercle bacillus, cause of tuberculosis, and the influenza virus, are here revealed in exact proportion to each other, at 18,600 times their actual size. Striking differences in size and form of the organisms which produce tuberculosis and influenza are revealed. Portraits of disease-producing organisms, in detail never before possible, are now being taken with the electron microscope in such research centers as the Squibb Institute for Medical Research at New Brunswick, New Jersey.

Ever since the discovery of the tubercle bacillus in 1882, scientists and medical research workers have been searching for a means of combatting it in human beings. Similar work has been going forward on the influenza virus. Today vaccines are available to prevent influenza, and a modification of streptomycin, named dihydrostreptomycin, is offering new hope of recovery to those suffering from tuberculosis.

Now with the aid of the electron microscope most disease-producing organisms can be seen, many for the first time, and Squibb scientists are able to study new approaches to their defeat.

Rufe's Ramblings
By RUFÉ PICKETT

There were several good boarding-houses and hotels down home but the leading house in the city was the Blue Ridge Inn—a big three story brick. The lobby was in the northeast corner with one door opening right on to the sidewalk of Main Street and another side door which went onto a porch where the guests could sit and talk and look toward the mountains. "Other day I went back to the old home town for a visit. Not that I was visiting anybody in Particular—just wanted to walk up and down old familiar streets and perhaps meet up with a few old timers from way back yonder. Several of the fellows whom I hadn't seen in thirty-five years congregated on this side porch and we were having a good time living over by gone days when the hotel clerk came walking out and looking right at me, he sez, "Well, does Mount Airy make you feel like you are in Chicago? The answer should have been NO. I felt like I was in Mount Airy. Just like I did when I was a boy and used to slip up onto the same porch and sit in one of the arm chairs, and believe me I tore out of there in a hurry and ran around the corner before it happened to come to me that I had signed the register and left my suitcase in one of the rooms upstairs."

Illinois Tax Facts

By: George E. Mahin, Executive Secretary, Taxpayers' Federation of Ill., 602 East Capitol Avenue, Springfield, Illinois.

Although the recent General Assembly refused to vote any new or increased State or local taxes particularly for Illinois state taxpayers, the House killed the proposed increase in the motor fuel tax and the Senate stopped all other proposals for new and increased taxes, nevertheless the real showdown on higher taxes is coming in the next two years—perhaps at a special session this fall.

No one yet has found a way to keep on spending more money than his income plus his reserves. England has found that it can't be done, even with the help of billions of dollars from the American taxpayer.

And the "why worry about the national debt, we only owe it to ourselves" people in this country have been keeping mighty quiet lately too.

Despite the fact that the budget of the State of Illinois, after Governor Stevenson gets through vetoing some millions of dollars of appropriations, will be in balance for the two year period from the first of this month to June 30, 1951, nevertheless the State will spend more money than it takes in from present tax sources during the two years and consequently the reserve will be depleted. Therefore, either new or increased State taxes will have to be voted by the General Assembly before June 30, 1951 or State spending will have to be substantially curtailed thereafter.

It is the General Revenue Fund of the State that is of most interest to taxpayers. Into that fund go the collections from the Retailers' Occupation Tax, Sales Tax, the cigarette tax and the liquor tax, among others. Out of that fund comes money for welfare institutions, old age assistance and other relief functions, state colleges and universities, state aid for schools and numerous other state functions.

Using the State's own figures, the balance estimated for this July 1 in the General Revenue Fund was $148,669,000. Of this, $44,509,000 was reappropriated for construction projects started before this July 1, leaving a net of $104,160,000 available to be spent in the coming two years. The General Revenue Fund's estimated income for the coming two years is $540,000,000. Adding this to the net balance of July 1 produces $644,160,000 in spending power. Appropriations by the General Assembly amounted to $638,407,000 requested in the Governor's budget, plus $7,027,000 appropriated outside the budget. In other words, the balance as of July 1 of this year will be completely wiped out two years from now and the Governor will have to veto at least $1,274,000 of appropriations to prevent a deficit.

The fact that Governor Stevenson is expected to provide the most efficient and most non-wasteful government that he can will not appreciably affect the financial future outlined in the above estimates by the State, since that has been taken into consideration in appropriations enacted. The State is paying more money into State aid for schools, higher old age assistance and aid to dependent children payments and higher salaries to State officers and employees. Such increases in the State spending program are not going to be easy to cut.

Illinois municipalities, which didn't get the state aid this session that they had been promised, will attempt to intensify their campaign for a slice of state funds. And the farmers who have been getting 7½ million dollars a year in state aid for farm-to-market roads for the past four years, won't get a dime for the next two years, and they will attempt to intensify their campaign for state funds.

Add these all together and it means that Illinois taxpayers had better give real thought to the problem as to whether they want the State spending program curtailed or are willing to pay a higher sales tax. The choice has to be made—and soon.

Right With God

Lesson for July 24, 1949

"GET RIGHT with God" is an expression which has been sometimes used by people. It is not a coarse or cheap idea. It is the most important thing you can do. Think what it means to be wrong with God!

That means to be out of harmony with his will, going "across the grain of reality" as the old Greeks used to say. To be wrong with God means to be a rebel against reality, to have the power of the universe working against you, and so to be headed for sure destruction. Wrong with God, you cannot win. Right with God, you cannot lose. To be right with God means to be in line with the purpose that runs through all things; it means in the simple language of the Bible, to live as a child of God.

Dr. Foreman

Mule or Man?

THERE are two ways in which man can come into line, so to speak, with God. One is by being whipped into it, and the other is by a free act of will. The poet of the 32nd Psalm begs his readers not to be like mules or colts (Ps. 32:9). These animals can be broken and controlled by their masters. But they do not understand what is going on, and if left to themselves they would never serve.

They have to be caught, harnessed and driven. But God does not want to treat human beings like that. Getting right with God is not a business of getting into harness, being beaten into walking on the right road. That is not God's way. He pleads with us through his inspired poet: Be not as mules—be men!

Facing Up to Yourself

THE short good Bible word for being wrong with God is Sin. The very first step toward being right with God is to see yourself as you are. No one ever went to a doctor till he at least suspected he was sick. No one ever went to school of his own accord who thought he knew everything. And no one will come to God who thinks he is as good as he needs to be. When life goes hard with us, when everything about our life seems twisted and rotten, we make all sorts of excuses for ourselves, we lay the blame on our parents or our friends or the social and economic system in which we live (doubtless all these have a share in creating our troubles), but we hate to look at ourselves in the mirror of truth.

This comes first: recognizing our own wrongness, not just weakness but wrongness. When we reach the point where we can say with the Psalmist, "Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me," then we are on the right road.

"Hide Thy Face"

THERE are two things we never hear about in the Bible. One is that God never forgave anyone who did not repent, and the other is that he refused to forgive any one who did repent. But repentance is not merely regretting that a wrong was done; still less regretting being caught. Repentance, the kind the Bible describes (as in these Psalms for example), means a complete change of attitude, it means coming over on God's side and seeing sin the way he sees it, seeing life the way he sees it.

God's forgiveness is not of the grudging, remembering, reminding kind. But condoning and forgiving are still a world apart. Condoning means saying in effect, It is all right, it makes no difference, you can go on sinning for all I care.

Some human "forgiveness" may be like that, but not God's. His forgiveness is based on real repentance, and the aim of it is to save the sinner from his sin.

Plenteous in Mercy

THE Psalmists saw clearly what kind of God we have. He is not like the holder of a mortgage waiting till the first time some payment is deferred gives him a chance to pounce down and evict his tenant. We are not criminals against whom God is a prosecuting attorney, trying to pile up evidence against us. "If thou shouldst mark iniquities, who shall stand?" We are children, lost and wandering children, rebellious and disobedient children, but still children; and God holds open the door of mercy.

Illinois Tax Facts

By George E. Mahin, Executive Sec., Taxpayers' Federation

A new county officer, the county assessment supervisor, will be chosen early in 1950 in every township organized county except Cook (which now has an elected county assessor) and St. Clair (which now has an elected board of assessors). In the 17 commission form counties, this new officer will make his first appearance late in 1953.

This new office of county assessment supervisor was created by legislation which just barely squeezed through during the closing days of the recent Illinois General Assembly. This legislation was recommended by the Revenue Laws Commission, and was supported by the State administration. The Illinois State Chamber of Commerce worked hard for the passage of this legislation. Other citizen organizations, including the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois, opposed passage of this legislation primarily because of the potential danger of State control over local assessments.

The county assessment supervisor will be chosen as follows: the county board in each county will submit a list of not less than 3 and not more than 10 names to the State Department of Revenue; the State Department will certify back to the county board the names on that list, if any, that the Department considers competent; the county board will then appoint the county assessment supervisor from this certified list for a term of four years. If the Department finds, however, that no one on the list submitted by the county board meets the Department's qualifications, the same process as above shall be repeated. If the Department again finds none competent, the county board may either submit a third list or appoint any person it deems qualified, by not less than a two-thirds vote of the members of the county board.

The salaries of the county assessment supervisors will be paid by the State as follows: In counties of less than 10,000 inhabitants, $2,000 a year; 10,000 to 25,000 inhabitants, $2,750; 25,000 to 50,000, $3,500; 50,000 to 75,000, $4,000; 75,000 to 100,000, $4,750; 100,000 or more, $6,000.

Elected township assessors will be ex officio deputy assessors; if the elected township assessor is unable alone to make the assessment in the township, assistants shall be appointed by the county assessment supervisor (now appointed by the township assessor with consent of the town board of auditors—it appears, however, that no provision is made in this legislation for payment of such assistant township assessors). The county assessment supervisor may also appoint one or more deputies to assist him. Such deputies will be paid by the county.

The county assessment supervisors are given by this legislation complete power to revise individual assessments and to equalize assessments. The power of the board of review to equalize assessments is taken away. The board of review will have power only to revise the assessment of an individual taxpayer upon his complaint, to assess omitted property and consider tax exemption claims.

Counties will have additional expense for office space, salaries for deputies appointed by the county assessment supervisor, and for maintenance of the assessment system after its original installation. The State is to pay the cost of the original installation of a "scientific assessment system." It is estimated that this will cost the state well over $2 million. The State will also pay the salaries of the county assessment supervisors, and certain other expenses, aggregating more than $625,000 for the next two years.

Now is the time to clean out the grain bins. Thoroughly clean and spray the bins before new grain is stored. See your county farm advisor for recommended treatment.

Letter To The Editor

To the Office boy:
After reading your article in the News-Bulletin of July 14th under the heading "You have to go fishing to get a fish story," I would like to say a few words myself in regard to fishing.

Being an old fisherman who has spent 25 different falls in the north woods of Wisconsin, and have caught many a Muskie, wall-eyed pike, northern pike and blue gill, I want to say to the fishermen in Tinley Park and also to my old fishing pals in Mokena and New Lenox, that you don't know what real fishing is until you come to Florida.

Charter a cabin cruiser which you can get for $50.00 a day, including the finest meals you have ever eaten, provided your head isn't hanging over the rail and you are feeding the fish, and also a nice bunk to sleep on. Then take a trip out to the beautiful blue waters of the Gulf stream, a sight worth seeing.

You plant yourself down in a comfortable swivel chair holding a $90.00 pole in your hands with a $200.00 reel and a big star drag; about 1500 feet of line with a large hook and an eight pound sea bass for bait. You sit there, your body tense and your feet braced waiting for that big one to strike. A half hour passes, then an hour. You commence to think you are a sucker for ever coming out. Then all of a sudden—BANG! That big blue marlin has struck. Out of the water he comes, high in the air and down. You hang onto that pole for dear life. The Captain steps up and adjusts the star drag as you are not allowed to touch it. The big marlin pulls and jerks, and after a half hour or so he lets up. The Captain tells you to reel in, but to keep your thumb off the line. He knows what is coming, you don't. You get him up to within 50 feet of the boat and Swish! the line sings out. You are mighty glad your thumb wasn't on that line, thanks to the Captain.

When you get him stopped you find he is further out than when he struck. This keeps up until every muscle in your body is exhausted and you tell the Captain you can't hang on much longer. Then he steps up to help you and with his aid you finally get the monster out of the water and much to your surprise you find it takes nearly a half hour for the water to run back in and fill up the hole where you pulled him out. Then, and only then, will you know that you have been fishing.

Sincerely yours,

Will R. Lynk

Dear Editor:

It has come to my attention that a magazine racket misusing the good name of Boys Town is being carried on in various communities throughout the United States without our knowledge or sanction.

I would appreciate it very much if within your newspaper columns you would warn your readers to beware of any magazine solicitors identifying themselves as having any connection whatsoever with Boys Town. We have no authorized representatives selling book or magazine subscriptions. None of our boys are permitted to do so and we have no arrangements with any solicitors whereby a portion of their commissions are turned over to Boys Town.

Any magazine solicitor who represents himself as a Boys Town citizen, a former Boys Town citizen, or claims to represent Boys Town in any way whatsoever, is using the good name of Boys Town to promote his own personal ends.

Please urge your readers that if any magazine solicitors call upon them using the name of Boys Town in any way whatsoever, they should immediately contact their local Better Business Bureau or Police Department so proper investigation may be made and this unauthorized practice may be stopped.

Will you please warn your readers of this magazine racket in which the good name of Boys Town is being misused? We do not want any of your readers to be victimized or taken advantage of by fast talking magazine salesmen who sell their magazines on the strength of Boys Town rather than on the merits of their publications and misled people into believing that by subscribing they are contributing to the work which is being done at Boys Town.

Thanking you for your cooperation in helping us stop this vicious magazine racket, I am

Sincerely,

Rt. Rev. Msgr. Nicholas H. Wegner

The wood used in the United States each year would be enough to build a walk twenty feet wide, two feet thick, and nearly 240,000 miles long. The World Book Encyclopedia says this boardwalk would be long enough to extend from the earth to the moon.

The colt crop in 1948 was 200,000 head, the smallest in more than a century.

Then all of a sudden—BANG! That big blue marlin has struck. Out of the water he comes, high in the air and down. You hang onto that pole for dear life. The Captain steps up and adjusts the star drag as you are not allowed to touch it. The big marlin pulls and jerks, and after a half hour or so he lets up. The Captain tells you to reel in, but to keep your thumb off the line. He knows what is coming, you don't. You get him up to within 50 feet of the boat and Swish! the line sings out. You are mighty glad your thumb wasn't on that line, thanks to the Captain.

When you get him stopped you find he is further out than when he struck. This keeps up until every muscle in your body is exhausted and you tell the Captain you can't hang on much longer. Then he steps up to help you and with his aid you finally get the monster out of the water and much to your surprise you find it takes nearly a half hour for the water to run back in and fill up the hole where you pulled him out. Then, and only then, will you know that you have been fishing.

Sincerely yours,
Will R. Lynk

The Answer to Excise Tax Repeal

Congressman Noah Mason of Illinois has come up with what we think is the logical answer to the problem of repeal of the wartime excise taxes, at the same time saving the federal government from a substantial loss of revenue at a time when a sizable federal deficit is in the offing.

Mr. Mason is author of a bill now before Congress that would levy federal income taxes on the corporate business incomes of co-operatives and four other types of tax-escaping commercial corporations. He now suggests that this be tied in with repeal of the war time excises.

Taxing the untaxed would produce a billion dollars a year in new federal income, Congressman Mason estimates, while it is generally admitted that repeal of the unpopular excise taxes would cost the government about $500 million in income. If, as Mr. Mason points out, the Congress would combine his bill to tax the profits of presently untaxed corporations with one of the several bills to repeal the excise taxes, the federal treasury would come up with about $400 million in additional income without hurting anyone. Moreover, the plan would be a godsend to small business now forced both to compete with competitive tax-free enterprises and at the same time carry the business-depressing load of high wartime excise rates on such commodities as furs, jewelry, cosmetics, luggage, communication, transportation, and a score of others.

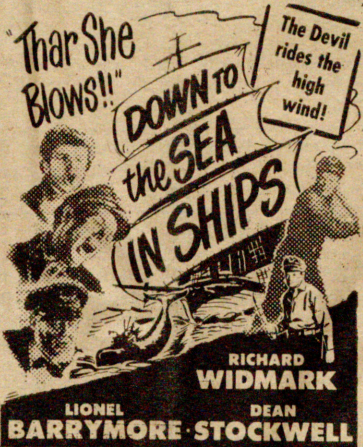

The desirability of repeal of these excises is generally recognized by government officials, businessmen and the general public. The stickler has been the loss of revenue involved. Mr. Mason's suggestion not only does away with the danger of a revenue loss, but actually provides new, additional income for the treasury. Congress should give this earnest consideration at this time.

"If new home costs would burden you — just wait till you get your bill for public housing."

Public housing in the Federal Government are asking Congress for the right to spend over 17 billion dollars and construct one million, fifty thousand public housing units in the next 3½ years. At this rate each public housing unit will cost you, the American citizen, approximately $17,000. None of this money will be repaid and it does not include cost of land, architects, and other fees.

This public housing will cost more than Americans paid to buy the over two million, two hundred thousand homes constructed by the private building industry during the last 3½ years. The average sales price of homes produced by private industry was about $8,000, or less than half the amount being spent to produce each public housing unit.

Psychiatric Treatment For Alcoholics Estimate 80 per cent

Psychiatric treatment for alcoholics is now being offered by the state division of vocational rehabilitation. Other services, such as psychological testing, medical attention, job training and placement are also available.

This work is part of an expanding program for the mentally and emotionally handicapped, according to Noble J. Puffer, director of the state department of registration and education. Puffer says Illinois is among the first states to offer such help to alcoholics under a vocational rehabilitation program. Alcoholics Anonymous and Portal House, Chicago, are assisting in the undertaking.
